

Call for papers

Nordic-Baltic Network for Philosophy of Medicine and Medical Ethics

Annual Workshop

Issues in Bioethics and Philosophy of Medicine

Ersta Sköndal University College, Stockholm, Sweden

8-9 June 2015

The participants of the workshop are invited to address any topics in philosophy of medicine or medical ethics.

The workshop is free of charge and a limited amount of small grants to support travel expenses will be available. However, those who cancel their participation after May 25, will be charged 50€ to cover the expenses.

The workshop will be opened after lunchtime on Monday June 8 and closed after lunch on Tuesday June 9.

In connection to the workshop, the PopGen network (Population Whole Genome Sequencing: Implications for the Nordic Solidaristic Health Care), which is a part of the network, will hold their workshop with invited participants. For information, project leader Vilhjálmur Árnason University of Iceland, vilhjarn@hi.is

Please send your abstracts for talks (max. 300 words) by April 15, 2015 to Henrik Lerner (henrik.lerner@esh.se)

Registration is open until May 15, 2015. Inquiries, request for travel grants and registration: henrik.lerner@esh.se

Organisers: Ersta Sköndal University College